

Year of implementation of the personal data protection regime, by country

Entry into force of the current general regime in each jurisdiction of the study

Criterion: year of entry into force/application of the current general regime. The United States lacks a comprehensive federal law; California's CCPA is used as reference. Notes: Japan reformed the APPI in 2022; Singapore's data obligations applied from 2014; Australia adopted the Australian Privacy Principles in 2014.
